Synergy AGM set for April 17

Lloydminster, Sask. – Synergy Credit Union is looking back at a year of celebrations as it gets set to host its 2019 Annual General Meeting on April 17.

Reflecting on 2018, the 75th anniversary of Synergy Credit Union was a significant milestone; the year was spent honouring the past, expressing enthusiasm for the present and feeling excitement for the future as Synergy held events at all 10 of its branches with excellent attendance in communities across the region.

Synergy members also benefited from more than $2.5 million allocated to members' ProfitShares accounts. Synergy also formally introduced the Synergy Shares program which will see up to five per cent of pre-tax income put towards projects in the communities it serves.

"All of these successes are because of our members," said Board of Directors Chair Don Wheler. "That's what's so great of being a part of credit union — when we have success, our members are successful, and, in turn, we can help the communities we call home."

At the AGM, Synergy leadership will also discuss some of the evolutions that have taken place in the banking industry and its commitment to giving members a first-rate experience. Synergy is also committed to its branch service centre network and maintaining a flexible approach to keeping a strong presence in each of its 10 communities.

"We strive to meet our members needs and will continue to do that in future, whether it's their in-branch experience and/or having access to the latest technology that makes their lives easier," said Synergy CEO Glenn Stang.

The AGM will take place at the Marsden Community Hall on April 17 with beef on a bun at 11:30 a.m. and the meeting to follow.
